

Scenes from Your Life

Answer as many of the following questions as you can. Just make short notations of memories that come to you: Who or what was involved? When did it take place? Where? How old were you? etc. You may be surprised by what you remember!

What was a favorite meal served at your house as a child?

What was your favorite subject in high school?

Least favorite subject?

Best teacher?

Worst teacher?

What extra-curricular activities did you take part in during your school years?

With whom was your first kiss?

Did/do you have a favorite relative? Who?

What is the smartest thing you ever did?

The dumbest?

What was the most frightening thing that ever happened to you?

What activity today is the most fun for you?

What was your favorite job?

Least favorite?

Who was the best boss you ever had?

Who was the worst?

What television/radio show did you never miss as a child?

What was the first movie you remember seeing in a theater?

Where were you when:

You learned John Kennedy was assassinated?

Nixon resigned?

The first man landed on the moon?

What was your most memorable trip as a child?

As an adult?

What was a turning point in your life—when your life veered in a new direction?